Dear Friend of The Hannah Center,

During this beautiful time of year, as new life is sprouting everywhere and once again the earth is green, we are reminded of the new life that mother’s bring to the world. At The Hannah Center it is our goal that every woman within our reach would have the opportunity to give and enjoy life, have a home and experience positive change in their life. When a woman is invested in, her family and community become a better place.

We recognize and acknowledge women who receive hope and guidance from The Hannah Center, as well as the women who give of their time, talents and resources to keep our mission alive. As we share with you some updates from The Hannah Center, please ask yourself how you can partner with us in honor of the great women who have impacted your life and the women in crisis who so desperately need the services of The Hannah Center.

Dear Friend of The Hannah Center,

During this beautiful time of year, as new life is sprouting everywhere and once again the earth is green, we are reminded of the new life that mother’s bring to the world. At The Hannah Center it is our goal that every woman within our reach would have the opportunity to give and enjoy life, have a home and experience positive change in their life. When a woman is invested in, her family and community become a better place.

What’s happening with The Hannah Center moms…

We currently have two single moms living at The Hannah Center, and are working on accepting more soon. One of our resident moms recently gave birth to a baby boy! She was very excited to welcome this precious boy, as are we! Another of our moms is reveling in her recent accomplishments of purchasing a car, excelling in college level classes, and most recently securing a fantastic internship in her field of choice. This same mom secured a bike and tag along in order to bike to daycare and work as often as possible. Positive life change is happening!
The Blessing of Serving Others

Serving not only blesses the one being served, but also the one serving. We asked volunteers and supporters of The Hannah Center why they serve. Here were some of their responses…

“Mothering has been the hardest job I will ever do and I appreciate how the philosophy of The Hannah Center supports women with children to move in a more positive direction.” - Donor

“I serve at The Hannah Center because it’s a wonderful organization that empowers women to achieve their God-given potential.” - Board Member

“I saw the positive impact that The Hannah Center had not only on the women it serves, but also the people who serve. I wanted to be a part of something that is so life giving.” - Staff

“I feel good about myself when I volunteer at The Hannah Center. Everyone is so kind. I want to keep coming back.” - Volunteer

"Being a mother is one of my greatest joys in life; I am so thankful. I serve at The Hannah Center with the hope that women in crisis can also celebrate the joy of motherhood.” – Board Member

Meet our New Program Coordinator

In February we said a tearful good-bye to Tricia Fancher, our previous Program Coordinator, as she took a new position in her hometown of Wisconsin Rapids. Although we were sad to say good-bye and are forever thankful for her diligent work and passion for The Hannah Center, we are delighted to receive and announce Nicole McCann as our new Program Coordinator.

Nicole and her husband are from Canada and have been Marshfield residents for 17 years. They have raised a family of 3 children in their time here, and have been involved in supporting and volunteering at The Hannah Center for several years.

Nicole plans to use her degree in psychology and education to help women attain positive change in their lives. As she begins serving The Hannah Center she is most excited to implement our core values of preserving life, providing a home and promoting change. She is committed to treating women as valued and loved people who are created by God. She believes that a woman who knows she is loved and accepted, and created with purpose is best set up for success and positive life change.
Did you know?

Women call or visit The Hannah Center contemplating abortion…and we offer them a life-giving alternative, in which we can support them. They are not alone.

Moms come to us with babies screaming of hunger…and we provide formula and a bottle, as well as parental coaching on how to best care for an infant.

Independent living skills are taught from day one of a resident’s stay at The Hannah Center…and the majority of our residents graduate to local independent living.

Some of our moms choose adoption as their parental choice…and we support their educated and difficult decision with love and dignity.

Our residents come from as close as a block away and as far as Colorado…and we feel privileged to be a beacon of hope for such a diverse group of women.

There are moms in Marshfield that NEED to be supported. For many, we are the only people extending hope.

2nd Annual Cow-Pie Bingo & Open House

Saturday, May 30th (Part of Dairyfest)

Open House: 12:00pm- 3:00pm

Cow- Pie Bingo: 1:30pm

Back by popular demand, The Hannah Center’s 2nd annual Cow-Pie Bingo will take place on the corner of 3rd and Cedar Street. Come watch as our star-studded bovine takes the bingo board stage, prancing around until she drops a “cow-pie.” The winning bingo square receives a $100 cash prize! (You don’t have to be present to win.)

Bingo squares can be purchased at The Hannah Center for $5/square until 1:00pm or at www.hannahcenter.com.

Don’t forget your camera for this fun-filled family event!
Giving for LIFE
Banquet & Silent Auction

SAVE THE DATE

We are thrilled to announce our keynote speaker for The Hannah Center’s 2015 Giving for LIFE Banquet and Silent Auction. Kabeer Gbaja-Biamila, lovingly known as “KGB” by Packer fans is a former Green Bay Packer defensive end. He is most famous for breaking the Packers sack record, previously held by Reggie White.

An outstanding NFL player, he is most proud of his accomplishments off the field. He is a loving husband and father of seven children! He is a passionate philanthropist and shares an inspiring story of family, faith and football.

Stay tuned for more information!
